JANUARY 2008

25 — Deadline to submit articles for March/April Zornicka.
On Sunday, November 25, 2007, the Church celebrates the glorious feast of Christ the King. This feast is celebrated on the final Sunday of the Church or Liturgical Year. Unlike the calendar year which begins on January 1st, the Church or Liturgical Year begins on the First Sunday of Advent. The feast of Christ the King was established by Pope Pius XI in 1925 as an antidote to secularism — a way of life which leaves God out of man’s thinking and living and organizes man’s life as if God did not exist. The feast is intended to proclaim, in a striking and effective manner, Christ’s royalty over individuals, families, society, governments, and nations.

At the time, Pius XI witnessed the rise of dictatorships in Europe, and saw even Catholics being taken in by these earthly leaders. Just as the feast of Corpus Christi was instituted when devotion to the Eucharist was at a low point, the feast of Christ the King was instituted when it was most needed, during a time when respect for Christ and the Church was waning. In fact, it is still needed today, as these problems continue to plague us. Today, a similar distrust of authority exists. Individualism has been embraced to such an extreme that for many, the only authority is oneself. The idea of Christ as ruler is rejected in such a strongly individualistic system.

Many balk at the idea of kings and queens, believing them to be oppressive. Some even reject the titles of “Lord” and “King” for Christ because they believe that such titles are borrowed from oppressive systems of government. However true these statements might be — some earthly rulers have been and still remain oppressive — these individuals miss the point. Christ’s kingship is one of humility and service. To his disciples Jesus said: “You know that those who are recognized as rulers over the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones make their authority over them felt. But it shall not be so among you. Rather, whoever wishes to become great among you will be your servant; whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all. For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.” (Mark 10: 42-45)

Thus, Jesus knew the oppressive nature of secular kings, and in contrast to them, he connected his role as king to humble service, and commanded his followers to be servants as well. In other passages of Scripture, his kingdom is tied to his suffering and death. While Christ is coming to judge the nations, his teachings spell out a kingdom of justice and judgment balanced with radical love, mercy, peace, and forgiveness. When we celebrate Christ as King, we are not celebrating an oppressive ruler, but one who was willing to die for humanity and whose “loving-kindness endures forever.” Christ is the king that gives us true freedom, freedom in Him. We must never forget that Christ radically redefined and transformed the concept of kingship.

This idea of Jesus as King, who exercises his authority in humble service, was greatly understood by Blessed Miguel Agustín Pro, S.J., martyred by the Mexican government on November 23, 1927, for performing his priestly duties. He studied in Mexico until 1914, when a tidal wave of governmental anti-Catholicism crashed down upon the country, forcing the novitiate to disband and the order to flee to Los Gatos, California. In 1915 Pro was sent to a seminary in Spain, where he remained until 1924. By the time he was ordained a priest in Belgium, in 1925, the political situation in Mexico had deteriorated. The presidency had been held by a succession of socialist, bitterly anti-Catholic politicians who tried to exterminate Catholicism. All Catholic churches were closed, and bishops, priests, and religious were rounded up for deportation or imprisonment. Those caught trying to elude capture were shot. Celebration of the sacraments was punishable by imprisonment or death.

Because the Church had been driven underground, Pro received permission from his superiors to return to Mexico incognito and to carry on his ministry undercover. He slipped into Mexico City and immediately began celebrating Mass and distributing the sacraments, often under imminent threat of discovery by a police force charged with the task of ferreting out hidden pockets of Catholicism.

He became known throughout the city as the undercover priest who would show up in the middle of the night, dressed as a beggar or a street sweeper, to baptize infants, hear confessions, distribute Communion, or perform marriages. Several times, disguised as a policeman, he slipped unnoticed into the police headquarters itself to bring the sacraments to Catholic prisoners before their executions. Using clandestine meeting places, a wardrobe of disguises (including policeman, chauffeur, garage mechanic, farm laborer, and playboy), and coded messages to the underground Catholics, Pro carried on his priestly work for the Mexican faithful under his care.

Finally he was caught. A car previously owned by his brother had been used in an assassination attempt on General Obregón. The license plate was traced to Pro’s brother, and this led to an informant telling the police where the Pro brothers, who knew nothing about the plot, were lodging. They were put in jail and held without trial for ten days while the government trumped up charges falsely, implicating Pro

“And the Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us, and we saw his glory, the glory as of the Father’s only Son, full of grace and truth.” (John 1:14)

The Apostle John did not include an account of the birth of Jesus in his Gospel. Instead, he recorded John the Baptist’s testimony about Jesus, related the call of the first disciples, and immediately began to describe Christ’s public ministry. All this was preceded, however, by an explanation of Jesus’ origin on a theological level.

This was God’s Word, who was from the beginning and came to dwell among his people as the Christ, the Anointed One of the Lord, and the Son of God as well as of man. Jesus was someone who came not only as our Lord but also as one who walks with us and permeates our life.

Saint Francis of Assisi is credited for beginning the tradition of the crèche. Italian manger scenes tend to include the life of God’s people, as it was lived out in the city and countryside. The stable comprises a very small part of the overall display.

There are several permanent displays in the Republic of Slovakia called The Slovak Bethlehem. Usually, these are wooden carvings of life in Slovakia that focus on the manger scene and the birth of Jesus. One such display can be found in the town of Rajecka Lesna, where the wooden carvings occupy the whole one side of a room. Many of the figurines and parts of the carving move, showing honor to the newborn Child.

The birth of Jesus is not an isolated event to be taken note of only at a certain time of the year. “The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us.” He came to be with us, in order to raise our lives to a status with God that is beyond our understanding. That life of ours, which appears ordinary to the worldly eye, is no longer ordinary. Everything that we do, at whatever time of the year, is now destined to speak of God’s Word and his presence.

May the blessings of this Christmas Season be yours throughout the New Year of Grace 2008 and overflow into the lives of those around you so that they, too, may know that our God has “made his dwelling among us.”

PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

The Pittsburgh District held a meeting on September 16, 2007, at Jodi B’s Restaurant in Forest Hills, Pennsylvania. Branch 52 was the host. Following a delicious meatloaf luncheon, District First Vice President Dolores Sakal conducted the meeting. She was acting in the absence of President Barbara Janicko, who was unable to attend due to illness.
Meeting discussions included the upcoming October 14 card party at St. Anne’s Church in Homestead, Pennsylvania, and the December 9 Christmas party at the Edgewood Country Club, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Emphasis was placed on the importance of members calling their Branch Secretary to make reservations for the December 9th affair. In addition, it was decided that each member would once again bring canned goods to the Christmas party. These items will be donated to the needy at St. Joseph Church, Duquesne, Pennsylvania.
The membership voted to continue to give a $50 gift to the Pittsburgh District’s national scholarship recipients. This year there were five winners from our area.
A vote was passed for the District to buy a $500 stone on the Tree of Life. The inscription, to be imprinted in both Slovak and English, will read: “God Bless Our Organization.”
The next Pittsburgh District meeting is scheduled for March 2008. The date will be announced later.
First Vice President Sakal opened and closed the meeting by offering prayers for President Janicko’s recovery.

On Sunday, September 9, 2007, a special ceremony was held at the Senator John Heinz History Center in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to welcome The Pittsburgh Agreement home. This historic document, signed on May 30, 1918, by Thomas G. Masaryk (the first president of Czecho-Slovakia), and representatives of the Slovak League of America and of the Czech-American community, was a major contributor to the liberation of the Czechs and Slovaks from Austro-Hungarian rule. The document helped to create the first Republic of Czecho-Slovakia.

The ceremony was coordinated by the Slovak League of America in cooperation with the Western Pennsylvania Slovak Cultural Association, under the direction of Joseph T. Senko, Honorary Slovak Consul in Pittsburgh.

Beginning at 11:00 a.m., a brunch was enjoyed by more than 100 invited guests, including the officers of the Slovak fraternals, local civic and cultural leaders, the Ambassador of Slovakia, and the Deputy Ambassador of the Czech Republic in the United States. The official program commenced at noon with the singing of the National Anthems of the United States, Slovakia, and the Czech Republic. Approximately 300 guests attended the program.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Joseph R. Grosko, pastor of Holy Trinity Church, West Mifflin, Pennsylvania. Greetings were extended by Attorney Joseph Bielecki, president of the WPSCA, and Attorney Cynthia Maleski-Groch, vice president of the SLA for Pennsylvania. Nina Holy, national secretary-treasurer of the SLA, the civic and cultural federation of Americans of Slovak ancestry, which sponsored the proponents of The Pittsburgh Agreement in 1919, addressed the assembly in Slovak.

Remarks were also offered by the Honorable Rastislav Kacer, Slovakia’s ambassador to the U.S. Ambassador Kacer noted the close relationship between the Slovak community in the United States and the Slovak people in his homeland.

The Czech Republic was represented by Juroslav Kurfurst, deputy chief of mission at the Czech Republic Embassy in Washington, D.C. He recalled the role played by the Slovak-American community and their collaboration with Thomas G. Masaryk, which helped establish the first Czecho-Slovak Republic in 1919.

In his address to the assembly, Slovak League President Daniel F. Tanzone outlined the history and purpose of The Pittsburgh Agreement. He recalled that on only two occasions had that document left the United States. In May 1938, on its 20th anniversary, Dr. Peter P. Hletko, then president of the SLA, brought the document to Bratislava where it was welcomed by a great manifestation clambering for Slovak autonomy, one of the promises made in The Pittsburgh Agreement. In May 2007, the document traveled with the special centennial tour of Slovak League dignitaries to Slovakia, where it was shown to Slovakia’s president, Ivan Gasparovic, and other government officials. It was welcomed during a session of the Slovak Parliament and displayed during a special ceremony during which Slovakia issued a commemorative stamp honoring the Centennial of the founding of the Slovak League of America.

Mr. Tanzone then presented The Pittsburgh Agreement to Andrew S. Masich, president and CEO of the Senator John Heinz History Center. Mr. Masich expressed thanks and gratitude to the SLA for considering the Heinz History Center as the new home of The Pittsburgh Agreement.

The program concluded with a benediction offered by Rev. John Cuccaro, pastor of St. John Chryzostom Byzantine Catholic Church in Pittsburgh.

Representing the LPSCU at this historic ceremony were President Theresa Kluchinski, Vice President Anita Gregory, Secretary-Treasurer Mary Jo Savidge, Chair of Trustees Mary Ann Ewasko, and Trustee Dolores Evanko.

Mary Talabay to Celebrate 100th Birthday

Mary (Maslik) Talabay of Whiting, Indiana, will celebrate her 100th birthday on November 12, 2007, with her family. She was born in Whiting on November 12, 1907. Mary was baptized in Whiting's St. John the Baptist Church, where she is still a parishioner. She is also a member of St. John's Rosary Society.

When Mary was two years old, she moved with her family to Dolna Lehota, Oravsky Podzamok, Slovakia. The village of Dolna Lehota is located in the Orava region in north central Slovakia. Mary lived below the Orava Castle (Oravsky Hrad) in Dolna Lehota until she was eighteen. She then returned to Whiting on her own, leaving her entire family in Slovakia.

Coincidentally, the 13th century Orava Castle is depicted in a mural painted by Austrian artist Ludwig Scheuerle in St. John the Baptist Church.

Back in Whiting, Mary met and married Michael Talabay in 1931. She and her husband spent their life together in Whiting. They were married for 68 years when Michael passed away in 1999.

Mary has two children, Eleanor Lukacsek and Michael Talabay, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Her younger sister, Teresa, is still living in Dolna Lehota, Oravsky Podzamok. Mary's granddaughter, Carol Burgan, visited with Teresa and her family in Slovakia in July of this year.

Mary, her daughter, and two of her grandchildren, Carol Burgan and Robert Lukacsek, are all members of LPSCU Branch 79 in Whiting.

The LPSCU extends congratulations and best wishes to Mary Talabay on her upcoming 100th birthday. We wish her the best of health and many more years of happiness with her family.

Harcariks Celebrate
65 Years Together

Branch 52 members Elsie and Bernard Harcarik celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary on June 16, 2007. They were married by Father Riley at St. Colman’s Church, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania, in 1942.

Elsie and Bernard have three children, five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. They are among the founding members of St. Susanna Church, Penn Hills, Pennsylvania, which they joined 48 years ago. The couple’s nephew, Father Bernard M. Harcarik, is pastor at Prince of Peace Parish, South Side, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The LPSCU extends congratulations to Elsie and Bernard Harcarik on the occasion of their 65th wedding anniversary. May they have many more years of good health and happiness together.

Earlier this year, the LPSCU Board of Directors announced that the $1.00 first year annual premium on the Juvenile Estate Term (Term-to-25) plan of insurance was being extended for the year 2007. This offer is limited to certificates with an issue date of the year 2007. After the first year, premiums will be billed at the rate of $16.00 for $10,000 of term life insurance and $9.50 for $5,000 of term life insurance.

The LPSCU’s Juvenile Estate Term (JET) Plan, commonly referred to as Term-to-25, is an ideal insurance solution for students and is available to anyone less than 22 years of age. The plan provides full life insurance protection from date of issue to age 25.

A medical exam is not required to apply; however, the LPSCU reserves the right to require a medical exam on any applicant should it be deemed necessary.

Once the JET insurance certificate is issued, coverage remains in full force and effect through the maturity date of the certificate, provided premium payments are current. This plan matures when the insured’s certificate reaches the anniversary of issue date closest to his/her 25th birthday. When the certificate expires, the insured will be given an option to convert his/her current coverage amount to a legal reserve plan (permanent insurance) with no evidence of insurability being required. This is a guaranteed provision within the JET contract.

In the event of the death of the insured prior to reaching 25 years of age, the face amount of the policy is paid to the named beneficiary.

The new legal reserve certificate may provide a death benefit equal to or less than the face amount of the expired JET policy. The policy date of issue will be the expiry date of the JET policy. The policy premium on the new certificate will be based on the member’s age on the date of exchange and on the Society’s premium rates then in effect. The first premium on the new certificate must be paid prior to the expiry date of the JET policy. Written request for exchange will be required.

JET Term-to-25 is an excellent, affordable plan providing protection for your children from infancy on through their school years, including college. Now the JET Term-to-25 is even more affordable with the first year’s premium costing just $1.00. This offer is good for new certificates with an issue date on or before December 15, 2007. Applications must be received by December 10th. Hurry! Time is running out to take advantage of this great offer.

Call your Branch Secretary for an application or contact the LPSCU Home Office at 888/834-6614 or 570-823-3513.

ZORNICKA
In Memoriam

Joseph J. Krajsa, LPSCU Member and Slovak Fraternalist

Joseph J. Krajsa, 59, of Middletown (Lower Swatara Township), Pennsylvania, passed away at home Thursday evening, August 23, 2007, surrounded by his loving family after a courageous battle against cancer.

He was born September 8, 1947, in Allentown, Pennsylvania, son of Romanza Fairman Krajsa and the late Joseph C. Krajsa, long time editor of the Jednota newspaper.

In 2001, he retired as general manager of the former Jednota Press in Middletown, where he worked for 31 years. He also served as manager of Jednota Estates, owned by the First Catholic Slovak Union, a Slovak fraternal benefit society of which Joe was a lifelong member. He served on the Board of Directors of the FCSU for many years, as well as on the board of its holding company, Jednota, Inc. Joe had gone on to a second career as sales and marketing manager at Triangle Press in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Joe attended Central Catholic High School in Allentown and graduated from the Perkiomen School in Pennsville, Pennsylvania. He earned his bachelor’s degree from Bethany College in West Virginia, and received a life insurance marketing degree from Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Joe also earned the designation of Fraternal Insurance Counsellor (FIC) for his expertise in fraternal benefit insurance.

Joe was well known in the Middletown area for his community service and generous spirit. He was a former member of the Middletown Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, and spent 16 years on the Middletown Area School District Board. He was one of the co-founders of MusicFest, an annual venue to showcase the performing arts in the area and to raise scholarship money for Middletown area students pursuing careers in the arts. Joe was also instrumental in getting the soccer fields used by the Olmsted Regional Soccer Association on the Jednota Estates property in 1980. The fields are still in use today by hundreds of ORSA players and their families each fall. He was a member of a number of area service organizations.

Joe was always proud of his Slovak heritage. In addition to the FCSU, he was a member of LPSCU Allentown Branch 38 and was a delegate to our last national convention. He also belonged to the First Catholic Slovak Ladies Association, National Slovak Society, Slovak League of America, and Slovak Catholic Federation.

Joe spent numerous years coaching his sons and other youngsters in baseball and soccer. He was a member of Seven Sorrows of the Blessed Virgin Mary Parish, Middletown, and enjoyed singing in the parish choir.

In addition to his mother, he leaves his fiancée, Carolyn Sullivan; son Brad and daughter-in-law Jill of Denver, Pennsylvania; son Matthew and daughter-in-law Staci of Middle- town; three grandchildren, Makenna, Micah, and Jack Krajsa; brother Michael of Coopersburg, Pennsylvania; brother George and sister-in-law Susan of Davie, Florida; nieces, nephews, and cousins. He also leaves behind many, many people who are grateful to have shared his friendship, loyalty, and love throughout his life.

In addition to his father, Joe was predeceased by a son, Scott Michael, and his sister, Maryagnes Krajsa.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Matinchek and Daughter Funeral Home, Middletown, where a viewing was held on August 27. A funeral mass was held the following morning at his parish church, followed by interment in the Middletown Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made in Joe’s name to the Ryan A. Pacella Memorial Scholarship Fund, 1769 Mountain View Road, Middletown, PA 17057. Ryan, a friend and classmate of Joe’s sons, succumbed to cancer not long after graduating from high school.

LPSCU Educational Book Buy Program

Earlier this year, the LPSCU announced our newest Fraternal Benefit, the LPSCU Educational Book Buy Program. This award is in addition to any Educational Award you may have received from the LPSCU. The Book Buy Program will assist our members attending college by reimbursing 10% of their college book expenses.

How do you qualify? You need only to establish a NEW 20 Payment Life or Whole Life Policy during your freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior year of college. Premiums must be paid on an annual, semian- nual, or quarterly basis and must be current for the member to be eligible for this program. You can submit an LPSCU Educational Book Buy Program Application each school year and receive a 10% refund on books purchased (limited to the amount paid for the annual premium on your 20 Payment Life or Whole Life Policy).

Example: A student age 21 purchases a $10,000 20 Pay-ment Life having an annual premium of $124.00 (does not include administration fee). The student submits receipts totaling $815.00 for book purchases. The benefit will reimburse the student $81.50 (10% of the books purchased).

You may take advantage of this program for a maximum of four (4) years.

Simply complete the LPSCU Educational Book Buy Program Application and attach your book receipts. It’s as simple as that! And, in addition to receiving this reimbursement, you are protected with valuable life insurance!

Approximately 400 fraternalists from the United States and Canada attended the 121st Annual Meeting of the National Fraternal Congress of America at the Westin Convention Center in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, from September 6-8, 2007. Themed “Bridging Heritage with Innovation,” the meeting addressed important questions such as how to use our heritage as a foundation for innovation.

The Opening Session commenced at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 6, with the Presentation of the Colors, National Anthems of the U.S. and Canada, Pledge of Allegiance, Invocation, and Welcome from the NFCA Chair of the Board, Janice U. Whipple. She also introduced the 2006-2007 NFCA Board and past NFCA Board Chairs.

Greetings were extended by the presidents of the Pennsylvania Fraternal Congress and the Canadian Fraternal Association. Preliminary Reports of Committees and the Treasurer’s Report were presented. Delegates approved the Minutes of the 120th Annual Meeting.

Ms. Whipple presented her report as Board Chair, reflecting that the NFCA continues with its strategic direction of protecting the tax exemption, monitoring legislative developments, providing member education, and enhancing its members’ solvency through work in membership standards.

The keynote speaker, Todd Buchholz, former director of economic policy at the White House and a managing director of the $15 billion Tiger Hedge Fund, presented “Lessons from the Past for Our Present and Future.” He emphasized that in order to grow, societies must lead with their fraternal advantage and focus on their fraternal communities, creating opportunities for their members to come together for greater outreach, growth, and success.

The Session adjourned at 4:00 p.m., and delegates had the opportunity to visit with Exhibitors to review the new products and services available to the fraternal benefit system.

On Friday morning, September 7, various Sections of the NFCA, including Fraternal, Human Resources, Presidents, and Board Members, held breakfast meetings, many of which had guest speakers. Interactive workshops were also held covering Legislative Updates on Federal and State Issues, Ethical Standards, Accreditation Programs That Work, Using Ratios to Interpret Financial Performance, and Bringing Fraternal Underwriting Into the 21st Century.

At noon, during the Celebration of Fraternalism Luncheon, the 2007 Join Hands Day Excellence Award winners were announced, and Robert J. Hagen of SPJST of Temple, Texas, was named the 2007 Fraternalist of the Year. The LPSCU received SILVER status for the 2007 NFCA Shining Stars for JOIN HANDS DAY Awards.

The Third Session commenced at 2:30 p.m. Bob Huxel, interim NFCA president and CEO, presented his report relating to specific accomplishments of the NFCA during the past year. A Memorial was held for officers of member societies who passed away since the last Annual Meeting. Michael J. Wade, chair of the Membership Committee, explained the new Accreditation Program for member societies. The new program, “Your Key to Fraternal Success,” is comprised of meeting seven key standards, each designed to help societies reach an optimum level within the major disciplines of operating a relevant, sound, fraternal benefit society.

A speech by Jim Carroll, a leading international futurist and innovation expert, featured “Why Educate Yourself When You Know It All?” He explained how rapid times require bold change and new levels of creativity and innovation within every fraternal benefit society.

The Session adjourned at 5:30 p.m.

On Saturday morning, September 8, various Sections including Communications, Investment, Secretaries, and State Fraternal Congresses held breakfast meetings with guest speakers. The Closing Session commenced at 9:00 a.m. Final Reports from the Credential, Constitution, and Governance committees were accepted.

The delegates elected the slate of officers recommended by the Governance Committee. Katharine E. Rounthwaite, J.D., who is vice president, general counsel and executive secretary of The Independent Order of Foresters of Toronto, Canada, was elected as the 2007-2008 Chair of the Board of Directors. In her acceptance speech, Ms. Rounthwaite introduced her theme for the year: “Focus on Fraternalism.” She emphasized that “by focusing on fraternalism, each of our

Dear Junior Members,

The month of November is in the middle of the beautiful season of autumn. Autumn makes us a bit nostalgic because we know that summer is gone and winter is fast approaching. But we certainly can take pleasure in Mother Nature painting our landscapes and the cool weather that autumn brings. The clean crispness that is in the air makes us want to make the most of these days before we are snowed in for the winter.

I am thinking how much fun it would be to take a family hike in the woods on a crisp November day. It’s a great opportunity to bond with family members and to enjoy the beautiful canvas Mother Nature has created. Take along a thick throw or blanket to spread out on the ground and a basket with snacks like apples, grapes, cheese and crackers, and some beverages so you can take a little break along the way. Also bring along some sort of tote in which you can place all the goodies you will find while you explore the natural surroundings. And be sure to leave all cell phones turned off and music players and electronic games at home. This is strictly going to be between Mother Nature and you!

Bring some binoculars along to spot for birds and other woodland creatures. And be sure to keep your eye out for animal tracks. I think it would be a great idea to take along a notebook to jot down all your findings. You can even have a friendly competition among your family members. Who can spot (or identify) the most birds? Who will see the most unusual animal?

This is pinecone season, so you’re sure to see many of them. Pinecones come in all shapes and sizes depending on the conifer on which they grow. How many different kinds of pinecones can you collect? Stash them in your tote and perhaps you can use them to put together a nice centerpiece for your Thanksgiving dinner table. Did you know there are male and female pinecone? The females do not disperse the pollen; the male cone does. All pinecones mature in two years. Most of the cones you will see are from hemlock and spruce trees. The Coulter pine tree, a native to California, produces a pinecone that can weigh 2 to 5 pounds!

Picking fall leaves will also be fun and interesting. You will find many different colors and shapes. Do you know what kind of tree each fell from? Press the leaves into the notebook to transport them home safely. Then you can research what kind they are. These falling leaves will prepare a warm bed for seeds and soon-to-be hibernating creatures. Keep your eye out for them scampering around in the woods during your walk.

Make sure you wear comfortable, sturdy shoes for your hike. Wear several layers of clothing so you can remove it as the sun warms up the day and put it back on as evening approaches. And after an exciting day of fresh air, sunshine, and discovery, you can look forward to getting back to your cozy home to help Mother plan your family’s Thanksgiving feast.

Let’s Talk Turkey!

Before you sit down to that scrumptious Thanksgiving dinner, here are some facts about that turkey.

A male turkey is called a tom and a female turkey is called a hen. A baby is called a poult. To hatch a turkey egg it takes about 28 days. The time it takes a turkey to grow to be market-ready is about 19 weeks for a tom and 16 weeks for a hen.

We are gobbling up turkey today like never before. While turkey is still the most popular at Thanksgiving and Christmas, it is now enjoyed throughout the year. One reason for its popularity is that turkey meat is low in fat and high in protein. It is also an excellent source of iron, riboflavin, zinc, and vitamins B6 and B12.

Tom turkeys can fan out their tails; hens cannot. This is called strutting and the toms do it to impress the hens. Only male turkeys gobble. Hens make a clicking sound. Tom turkeys have a snood. This is the flesh-like skin hanging over their beaks. Hens also have snoods, but not as large. All tom turkeys and some wild female turkey have beards. The beard is made of stiff, black, bristle-like feathers that dangle from the upper chest.

Wild turkeys are very crafty and have strong instincts. They react very quickly to the threat of danger. While domesticated turkeys cannot fly, wild turkeys can fly for short distances at up to 55 mph. They can also run at 25 mph. They have excellent eyesight.

An interesting fact is that Ben Franklin thought the turkey, not the bald eagle, should have been named the official bird of the United States. If that had happened, perhaps we would not be eating turkeys on Thanksgiving Day!

Arts and Crafts

THE ADVENT WREATH

You can make your own Advent wreath. Begin with a Styrofoam circle (available at all craft shops) and cut four evenly spaced holes into which you will place the four candles. Traditionally there are three violet candles and one rose-colored candle (for the third Sunday), but sometimes all violet candles are used.

Press artificial greens into the Styrofoam to cover the remaining surface area. (Fresh greens can be used instead, but they will have to be replaced as they dry out.)

The use of the Advent wreath teaches the family the true meaning of Christmas. This is a wonderful family project as even young children can help gather the branches and place the candles in their places.

ZORNICKA
The Christmas Tree

Each year, during the month of December, millions of homes across America are decorated with Christmas trees and bright lights. But how much do you really know about this festive holiday symbol?

The middle of winter has long been a time of celebration around the world. Centuries before the birth of Jesus, early Europeans rejoiced at the winter solstice — the shortest day of the year — that the worst of winter was behind them as they looked forward to extended hours of sunlight brought by the lengthening days.

Long before Christianity, plants and trees that remained green all year held a special significance for people in the wintertime. Ancient people hung these evergreen branches over their doors and windows, just as today we decorate our Christmas homes with spruce, fir, and pine boughs. In many countries it was once believed that these evergreens would ward off evil spirits, ghosts, and illness. They were also a reminder that summer and new, green growth would indeed come again. The Druids, priests of the ancient Celts of Northern Europe, decorated their temples with evergreen boughs as a symbol of life everlasting.

The Christmas tree tradition as we know it today began in Germany. Sixteenth century German Christians brought small evergreens into their homes and decorated them with candles and wooden ornaments. Consequently, early German immigrants to America brought this tradition with them from their homeland. The first recorded display of a Christmas tree was by German settlers in Pennsylvania in the 1830s. But because the Christmas tree was still viewed as a pagan symbol by many Americans, especially the Puritans, the practice was very slow to spread.

This thinking changed in the mid-1840s when the very popular Queen Victoria of England and her husband, the German prince, Albert, were pictured in a newspaper sketch standing with their children around a Christmas tree. Such was the Queen’s popularity that both her loyal subjects and fashion-conscious Americans on the East Coast rushed to emulate the trend.

By the 1890s, the popularity of the Christmas tree in America was definitely on the rise. While Americans traditionally decorated their floor-to-ceiling trees with candles and homemade ornaments, hand blown glass ornaments imported from Germany were gaining popularity. Europeans favored smaller trees of 3-to-4-feet in height and continued to decorate them with apples, nuts, and marzipan cookies.

As you can imagine, it was dangerous to keep a candle-filled tree lit up for long, and buckets of sand or water were kept close at hand to douse any flames. The advent of electricity in homes changed all that, allowing safer lights that could be left burning for hours. Over the years tree lights themselves have changed from bubbling candles and large painted bulbs resembling colorful birds and snow-covered lanterns to the hundreds of tiny twinkling lights that festoon our trees today.

And thus, the humble evergreen tree has become a cherished part of our Christmas holiday tradition. Have a wonderful time decorating your tree!

The Advent Wreath

The Advent wreath is one of our most popular holiday traditions. It originated in pre-Christian Germany and Scandinavia where, during the cold December darkness of Eastern Europe, people gathered wreaths of evergreen and lighted fires as signs of hope in a coming spring and renewed light. This practice dates back to ancient times. The winter solstice is that time in the year when the sun reaches its southern most point in the heavens and the days are the darkest and gloomiest. Because these ancient peoples longed for the return of the sun’s light, they stopped all usual activity and sacrificed the use of their wagon wheels, hanging them up festooned with lights and greens in their celebration halls. There they awaited the return of their Sun god, thinking of the warmth and life he brought. Celebrations culminated in the “nativity” of the sun, the turning point of the year.

As Christians, we use the same meaningful custom to anticipate the feast of the light and life: the nativity of the Savior. We add one light (candle) on the wreath for each Sunday in Advent. We think of the darkness after Adam’s sin and the joy that Advent is half over. The fourth candle is the angel’s candle, the candle of peace, love, and the message of good news the angels bring.

On Christmas morning the family replaces the violet and rose candles with four bright red candles signifying great joy. In the wreath’s center will be placed a white candle, signifying the birth of the Christ Child. The white candle is used to light all the red candles. Now the family will read from the scriptures and offer prayers and sing Christmas carols.
Viva Cristo Rey!

in the assassination attempt. On November 13, 1927, President Calles issued the order that Pro be executed, ostensibly for his role in the assassination plot, but in reality for his defiance of the laws banning Catholicism.

When called from his cell, Pro walked to the courtyard, blessed the firing squad, and approached a bullet-scarred adobe wall. He knelt and prayed silently for a few moments. Refusing a blindfold, he stood, faced the firing squad, and held his arms outstretched in the form of a cross, a crucifix in one hand and a rosary in the other. In a clear voice he cried out, “Viva Cristo Rey!” (“Long Live Christ the King!”).

In 1988 Pope John Paul II beatified Miguel Pro. His feast day is celebrated on November 23rd each year, the day of his execution.

As we conclude this Liturgical Year with our celebration of the Feast of Christ the King and look ahead to a new Year of Grace beginning with Advent, let us ask God to grant us the same courage and wisdom He bestowed upon Blessed Miguel Pro, S.J. May the words of a prayer composed by Father Pro, shortly before his death, be our own: “I believe, O Lord, but strengthen my faith. Heart of Jesus, I love Thee, but increase my love. Heart of Jesus, I trust in Thee, but give greater vigor to my confidence. Heart of Jesus, I give my heart to Thee, but so enclose it in Thee that it may never be separated from Thee. Heart of Jesus, I am all Thine, but take care of my promise so that I may be able to put it in practice even unto the complete sacrifice of my life.”

In obedience to the example and command of Jesus, our Servant and King, may we render humble and generous service to those around us. May the goodness of our lives resonate with the cry of Miguel Pro: “Viva Cristo Rey!”

Letters

Dear Mrs. Savidge,

I know by this time the Ladies Pennsylvania Slovak Catholic Union have had word of the loss of my mother, Sabina Helis, at almost 99 years of age. Belonging to your organization and serving as a local officer for over 50 years, in St. Catherine Lodge, Branch 184 in Johnstown, was to her a great honor in life. She kept her records faithfully and tried hard to keep a close correspondence with many of you, especially with Rita Simalchik (R.I.P.) after closing her assigned tasks some time ago.

My family and I wish to thank you for your support to Mother and encourage you to continue to do good for God and country. I remember since I was a child how much it meant to Mother to be a part of your efforts.

God bless you all.

Sincerely,

Sister Mary Brenda Helis, S.C.
