SCHOLARS CHOICE®
COLLEGE SAVINGS PROGRAM

The 529 plan with the Legg Mason difference
With the Scholars Choice 529 plan, we’ll show you how easy it is to start saving. You’ll be able to choose from a wide range of investment options. And when the college years come, Scholars Choice will be there to help you through them.
College will be here faster than you think. Whether your child will be going to college in 18 years or three, don’t wait to save — it can cost you.

The most important part of saving for college? Starting now.

The cost of waiting adds up
Assuming your child will attend a private university in 18 years at a cost of approximately $483,000:

How much should I save?
To plan for your child’s education, you’ll need a dependable estimate of how much the college of your choice will cost. Look at these projections for both public and private schools.

Your monthly contribution assumes a hypothetical investment growth rate of 5.0% assuming no additional contributions or withdrawals and all earnings are reinvested. Your investment will vary and may perform better or worse than these examples, which are for illustrative purposes only and do not represent any specific investment.

2 Based on the average annual cost of attendance, adjusted for a hypothetical 5.0% rate of education inflation over four years (labeled as “Now”) and 18 years (labeled as “In 18 years”), with an expected four years of attendance for each scenario. The hypothetical also assumes a 1% contribution from savings to help cover the expected costs. Source: ©2017 The College Board, collegeboard.org.
ENJOY VALUABLE TAX ADVANTAGES AND BROAD FLEXIBILITY

Favorable tax treatment

Tax-deferred growth
Your investments will grow tax-deferred as long as the money remains in your Scholars Choice account.

Tax deductions for Colorado taxpayers
If you’re a Colorado taxpayer, every dollar you contribute can be deducted from your Colorado taxable income.

Tax-free withdrawals
Withdrawals used to pay for qualified higher education expenses, including tuition, room and board, books and required supplies, are not subject to federal income tax, and they’re excluded from state income tax in nearly all states. And now, 529 plan withdrawals can also be used to pay for up to $10,000/year of tuition at private or religious elementary or secondary schools (K-12).

The earnings portion of a non-qualified withdrawal is subject to federal income taxes, any applicable state and local income taxes, and an additional 10% federal tax.

Estate planning benefits
Account contributions are considered completed gifts and, in general, will be excluded from your federal taxable estate. This makes Scholars Choice an important estate planning tool for both parents and grandparents. Grandparents often find that 529 contributions reduce their taxable estate, while leaving an important legacy for their grandchildren.

Reduced gift tax
While gifts over $15,000 each year generally are subject to gift tax, contributions made to a 529 plan benefit from a special gift tax provision. You may contribute up to $75,000 ($150,000 per couple) per beneficiary in a single year. However, you must treat the contribution as a gift spread over five years in order to avoid incurring federal gift tax or reducing your unified estate and gift tax credit. This benefit can allow you to get a significant head start on your goal and give your investment more time to grow.

3 Please see Program Disclosure Statement for more complete information and consult with your Tax or Financial Advisor.
4 Contributions to an account for a beneficiary between $15,000 and $75,000 made in one year can be prorated over a five-year period without incurring federal gift taxes or reducing an investor’s unified estate and lifetime gift tax credit. If the account owner dies before the end of the five-year period, a prorated portion of the contribution amount will be included in his or her taxable estate.
Significant flexibility

Account owner control
Unlike certain other types of college vehicles, Scholars Choice allows you to maintain ownership and control over your account. The beneficiary of the account cannot make a withdrawal without your consent.

A plan for anyone
One of the many benefits of the Scholars Choice 529 plan is its versatility. Any U.S. resident — parents, grandparents, relatives, even friends of the family — can open accounts for the benefit of anyone. You can even open an account for yourself, and change the beneficiary at any time to another qualified family member.

Remember, the most important step to take in saving for college is just to get started.

Low fees
Keeping our fees low helps families maximize returns. Scholars Choice has the third-lowest asset-based fees among all actively managed, advisor-sold plans.

Competitive pricing
• Class A: Low up-front (maximum) sales charge of 3.5%
• Class C: No back-end CDSC

Colorado home-state advantage
• If you have a CO client, please know that Colorado is the home state of the Scholars Choice College Savings Program. Colorado state taxpayers enjoy an annual state income tax deduction to the extent of the contributor’s Colorado taxable income for that year.

These benefits make Scholars Choice the 529 plan with the Legg Mason difference.

6 Breakpoints for Class A units: Initial sales charges and selling commission for Class A units are based upon the aggregate amount invested. Instead of a flat rate of 3.5%, the initial sales charge applicable to the purchase of Class A units will be based on a schedule that provides for a reduced initial sales charge rate as the size of an account owner’s aggregate amount invested in Scholars Choice increases to certain levels called “breakpoints.” The PDS also describes the circumstances in which multiple purchases of units of the portfolios, by persons other than the account owner and/or based on future expected purchases, may be combined to take advantage of such breakpoints.

Static Multi-Fund Allocations

With Static Multi-Fund Allocations, you determine your investment strategy. Your account’s asset allocation will stay the same as long as you remain invested, unless you change the portfolio you have selected.

Your portfolio choices range from an aggressive, all-equity allocation to a more-conservative money market allocation.

Individual Fund Portfolios

Want to build your own portfolio, or complement another strategy by emphasizing a particular asset class? Consider our Individual Fund portfolios, each of which invests 100% of its assets in a single underlying fund.10

1 While the Cash Reserve Option will invest all of its assets in a money market mutual fund and will value its units based on the underlying money market fund share value, the Cash Reserve Portfolio itself is not a money market mutual fund. The Cash Reserve Option will not seek capital appreciation and may underperform other investment options. You could lose money by investing in this investment option. Although the money market fund in which your investment option invests (the “underlying fund”) seeks to preserve its value at $1.00 per share, the underlying fund cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in this investment option is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The underlying fund’s sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the underlying fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the underlying fund at any time.

10 Note: An Individual Fund portfolio’s underlying fund is subject to change.
Can I transfer assets from a Uniform Transfers/Gifts to Minors Act (UTMA/UGMA) or a Coverdell Education Savings Account into a Scholars Choice account?
Yes. You may liquidate all or part of the assets in one of these accounts and invest the proceeds in a Scholars Choice account. The liquidation of UTMA/UGMA assets for contribution to a Scholars Choice account may be a taxable transaction. Distributions from a Coverdell ESA that are invested in a Scholars Choice account are not subject to federal income tax.

What if my beneficiary receives a scholarship?
You can change the beneficiary on your account to another qualified family member.

Non-qualified withdrawals from Scholars Choice that can be attributed to certain scholarships are not subject to the additional 10% federal tax generally applicable to non-qualified withdrawals. However, the earnings portion of the withdrawal must be reported on federal and state (if applicable) tax returns. You can also use your account balance to pay for qualified expenses not covered by the scholarship, such as room and board, books and required supplies.11

What if my beneficiary doesn’t attend college?
You can wait, change the beneficiary on your account to another qualified family member, or make a non-qualified withdrawal. Your financial advisor can help you determine the most suitable route for your unique circumstances.

How will my Scholars Choice account affect my child’s eligibility for financial aid?
Being the account owner or beneficiary of a Scholars Choice account may impact the ability to receive financial aid or other benefits or the amount of such aid or benefits. You should consult a qualified advisor to determine how an account may affect financial aid eligibility under federal, state or institutional loan, grant or other financial assistance programs.

An investor should consider the Program’s investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. The Program Disclosure Statement at scholars-choice.com/PDS, which contains more information, should be read carefully before investing. If an investor and/or an investor’s beneficiary are not Colorado taxpayers, they should consider before investing whether their home states offer 529 plans that provide state tax and other benefits such as financial aid, scholarship funds and protection from creditors that are only available to state taxpayers investing in such plans.
